

Introducing version 1.1 of my Ultimate Persona extension. The focus of this update was fleshing out and expanding on alternate greetings. Now you can generate an infinite amount of different scenarios using your favourite character cards!

First off, pick a character.

Decide on your story type:

- Canon sticks to the character's established world and references their current greetings the most.
- Alternate Universe allows you to pick pretty much any scenario you can think of. Pick a tag (or don't) and expand it further in the following steps.
- NSFW/Romance focus. For those 'spicier' encounters :P

The screenshot shows a dark-themed application interface for generating stories. At the top, a horizontal navigation bar features six numbered circles: 1 (green checkmark), 2 (purple), 3, 4, 5, and 6 (light blue). Below the bar, the text "CHARACTER" is under circle 1, "STORY TYPE" is under circle 2, "PREMISE" is under circle 3, "PLOT HOOKS" is under circle 4, "DETAILS" is under circle 5, and "GENERATE" is under circle 6.

A pink wand icon is located in the bottom right corner of the main input area.

Generate plot hooks from all your data. Or type your own. You can easily change the amount of hooks generated in the settings menu (accessed by right clicking the main extension's icon.)

The screenshot shows a dark-themed application window titled "Generate Plot Hooks". At the top, there is a progress bar with six steps: "CHARACTER" (1✓), "STORY TYPE" (2✓), "PREMISE" (3✓), "PLOT HOOKS" (4), "DETAILS" (5), and "GENERATE" (6). Below the progress bar, the title "Generate Plot Hooks" is displayed with a bookmark icon. A subtitle "Preview scenario ideas before generating the greeting" follows. The main content area contains three generated plot hook scenarios, each preceded by a bookmark icon:

- "{{char}}, the boss's most enigmatic and alluring lieutenant, summons {{user}} to her private lounge after hours, where the scent of expensive perfume and danger hangs thick in the air, suggesting this is about more than just business.
- "{{user}} is sent to collect a 'tribute' from {{user}} System's territory, only to find her presiding over the transaction from a sun-drenched chaise lounge, her predatory amber eyes assessing {{user}} with more interest than the money on the table.
- During a tense meeting between rival factions, {{char}} deliberately brushes against {{user}} in the crowded room, her fox tail coiling briefly around {{user}}'s leg as she whispers that some debts are paid in more interesting currencies than cash.

Lastly, fine tune the length of the greeting, as well as any last minute details you want to add.

And BAM, you have a brand new scenario to explore.

Morena

The air in the backroom of Il Gabbiano was thick with cigar smoke and unspoken threats, a low murmur of tense negotiation hanging over the polished mahogany table. Morena moved through the crowd of suited enforcers and anxious lieutenants with the fluid grace of smoke, her emerald micro-bikini a shocking, deliberate contrast to the sea of black wool and silk. Her jade-green tail swayed like a banner, its white tip cutting through the haze. Her warm amber eyes scanned the room, not for exits or weapons, but for a certain kind of heat, a vibrant, potent aura amidst the cold calculus of power. They settled on Bob The Bin Chicken.

As the heads of the two families leaned in, voices dropping to dangerous whispers, Morena saw her moment. She glided past, the scent of salt and sun clinging to her sun-kissed skin. With a calculated, seemingly accidental shift of her hips, she brushed against Bob The Bin Chicken. The contact was electric, deliberate. Her magnificent, bushy tail coiled once, possessively, around Bob The Bin Chicken's leg for a heartbeat, the soft fur a startling intimacy in the sterile tension.

She leaned in, her lips a breath away from Bob The Bin Chicken's ear, her voice a velvet whisper meant to drown out the talk of territories and tributes. "The Don speaks of loyalty and percentages," she murmured, the predatory glint in her eyes hidden by a demure flutter of lashes. "But some debts... cara... are paid in far more interesting currencies than cash." She pulled back just enough to let Bob The Bin Chicken see the genuine, perverse curiosity in her gaze, a hedonist evaluating a new vintage. The pale strips of untanned skin at the edges of her minimal bikini seemed to hint at secrets just beneath the surface.

"The meeting will end soon," Morena continued, her tone now light, conversational, as if discussing the weather. Her tail gave one final, lingering stroke against Bob The Bin Chicken's leg before slipping away. "They will all go back to their counting houses and their bodyguards. I find numbers so... draining." A slow, knowing smile played on her lips. "Perhaps Bob The Bin Chicken would prefer to discuss the terms of this new currency? My suite has a view of the harbor. And far better... refreshments." She turned, letting the full, voluptuous effect of her departure linger, an offer and a challenge woven into the sway of her hips, a forbidden transaction proposed in the heart of the underworld.
